

A student crosses the street while the pedestrian signal shows a red hand.

Students use the crosswalk and look left, right and left again before crossing.

A student is texting while crossing the street.

Students cross a busy street without using the crosswalk.

