

Preventing Dangerous Situations in School
Academy
(Middle/High School)
The Impact of False Reporting Lesson

False Reporting Scenario

Steph doesn't feel like being at school today. She comes up with the idea to report an active shooter on campus to cause a lockdown to stop class. She texts her older cousin to make an anonymous report to the school. After receiving the report of an active shooter, the school immediately sounds the alarm for active shooter and sends a notice out to the parents.

The students go into hiding and the local police respond to the school ready to confront the shooter. Students begin texting their families. The only people who know it is fake is Steph and her cousin and they do not tell the truth.